Pursuant to Law No. (161) of 1998, concerning the protection of national economy from the injurious effects of unfair practices in international trade and its Regulation, issued by virtue of Ministerial Decree No.(549) of the year 1998 and amendments thereof (hereinafter referred to as the Regulation),

And in accordance with the provisions of Article (56) of the Regulation, the Minister of Trade and Industry approved on 2/6/2022, the recommendations of the Advisory Committee to initiate an expiry review and publish the Notice of Initiation in the Egyptian Official Gazette, in accordance with the provisions of Article (10) of the Regulation and issued Ministerial Decree No.(324) of the year 2022 which was published on 4/6/2022 in the Egyptian Official Gazette, issue No.124 (supplement) concerning the extension of Ministerial Decree No.(1535) of the year 2017 for a twelve-month term pending the completion of the review proceedings, in the light of the conclusions reached by Trade Remedies Sector, hereinafter referred to as “The Investigating Authority” (the IA).

1. Procedures

On 22/2/2022, the IA received a properly documented request by El Suez for Steel and Ezz Steel (hereinafter referred to as “the Domestic Industry”) to initiate an expiry review of the definitive anti-dumping duties imposed on the imports of Steel Rebar (Bars, Rods and Coils) Originating in or Exported from China, Turkey and Ukraine. The companies alleged in the request that the expiry of the duties would likely lead to the continuation or the recurrence of the dumping and the recurrence of injury suffered by the domestic industry.

The IA examined the data contained in the review request submitted by the domestic industry and submitted a report to the Advisory Committee on 12/5/2022. The Advisory Committee, in turn, submitted its recommendations to Her Excellency the Minister of Trade and Industry concerning the initiation of an expiry review of the definitive anti-dumping duties imposed on the aforementioned product and the publication of the notice of initiation in the Egyptian Official Gazette.

2. Domestic Industry

The domestic industry, which produces the like product, is represented by El Suez for Steel and Ezz Steel whose collective production represent 60% of the domestic production in accordance with the provisions of Article (19) of the Regulation.

3. Product under Review

The product under review is Steel Rebar (Bars, Rods and Coils) Originating in or Exported from China, Turkey and Ukraine which is classified under H.S tariff code:

This description is the sole description of the product under review and the H.S tariff code is mentioned for reference only.

4. Review Period

The period of the review of the likelihood of continuation or recurrence of dumping is from 1/1/2021 to 31/12/2021.

The period of the review of the likelihood of continuation or recurrence of injury is from 1/1/2016 to 31/12/2021.

5. Likelihood of Continuation or Recurrence of Dumping

The data submitted by the domestic industry shows that there is dumping, and that the expiry of duties would likely lead to the continuation or recurrence of the dumping of the product under review.

6. Likelihood of Continuation or Recurrence of Material Injury

The analysis of the preliminary data submitted by the domestic industry shows that most of the domestic industry's indices improved during the period of duty imposition and that the imports imported from China, Turkey and Ukraine are still present in the domestic market and the termination of these duties would likely lead to the deterioration of such indices; therefore, there is a likelihood of the recurrence of the material injury which had been suffered by the domestic industry before the imposition of the duties on the product under review.

7. Current Anti-Dumping Duties

The current duties are imposed by virtue of the Ministerial Decree No. (1535) of the year 2017 and represent 29% of CIF value which is not less than 101 US Dollar per ton for the Chinese companies, range from 7% to 22.8% of CIF value and not less amounts ranging between 27.7 US Dollar per ton and 81.9 US Dollar per ton for the Turkish companies and range from 17.2% to 27% of CIF value which is not less than amounts ranging from 62.94 US Dollar per ton to 99 US Dollar per ton for Ukrainian companies.

8. Questionnaires and Collection of Information

In order to obtain necessary information, the IA will send questionnaires to known foreign producers and exporters and to unknown foreign producers and exporters through the embassies of China, Turkey and Ukraine in Cairo.

Questionnaires will be sent also to the domestic industry and known importers of the product under review.

The parties unknown to the IA such as the producers, foreign exporters and importers of the product under review shall make themselves known to the IA to have a copy of the questionnaires within a thirty-day term of the date of publication of this notice in the Egyptian Official Gazette.

Introduction

The Trade Remedies Sector (the 'TRS' or the 'IA') of the Egyptian Ministry of Trade and Industry is responsible for administering the Egyptian anti-dumping law. The law provides a mechanism for maintaining fair levels of import competition for Egyptian producers when the dumping of imported goods causes injury to an Egyptian industry. The law reflects Egypt's obligations under the World Trade Organization (WTO) Anti-Dumping Agreement ('the Agreement').

The Minister of Trade and Industry has initiated an "expiry review" of the final anti-dumping duties imposed on imports of Steel Rebar (Bars, Rods and Coils) originating in or exported from the People's Republic of China, Turkey and Ukraine in response to a request submitted to the IA by the domestic industry.

The IA will carry out the expiry review, in order to establish whether the expiry of the present anti-dumping duty would be likely to lead to a continuation or recurrence of dumping and injury.

This questionnaire is designed to assist your company in providing the necessary information requested by the IA to assist it in carrying out these requirements.

The current anti-dumping measure will remain in force pending the outcome of the review.

It is in your best interest to respond to the questionnaire and any subsequent information requests by the IA as, in the absence of your responses, decisions taken or conclusions reached by the IA may be based on the best information available.

Definition of Dumping

Dumping is price discrimination between markets and occurs when an exporter sells goods to Egypt at a price less than the price charged in its home market (normal value), after adjustments are made to ensure that the price comparison is fair.

The price at which goods are sold in the home market of the exporting country to which necessary adjustments are applied is referred to as the "normal value" of those goods. The "export price" is based on the price that the Egyptian importer pays for the imported goods, to which necessary adjustments are applied.

Goods are dumped if the "export price" is less than the "normal value", after adjustments are made to ensure that the price comparison is fair.

Dumping is not illegal, and in fact is a common international commercial practice that can be beneficial to both importing and exporting countries. However, where dumping causes or threatens to cause material injury to a domestic industry of the importing country, remedial duties can be imposed.

The continuation of the imposition of currently applied anti-dumping duties is subject to the results of a review into the likelihood of dumping and injury continuing or recurring if current anti-dumping duties expire.

Background to Current Definitive Anti-Dumping Duties

Ministerial Decree No.1535 of 2017, published in Official Gazette Volume No. 275 (supplementary) on 6/12/2017 to impose definitive anti-dumping duties on "Steel Rebar (Bars, Rods and Coils)" originating in or exported from People's Republic of China, Turkey and Ukraine ends on 5/6/2022.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

This glossary is intended to provide parties with a basic understanding of many technical terms that appear in the anti-dumping questionnaire. These explanations are not regulations or rules with the force of law. As difficult or detailed questions arise, parties should seek clarification from the statute, regulations, and the IA, rather than attempting to derive precise guidance from these general explanations.

Affiliated Persons

Under the anti-dumping law, transactions between affiliated persons are subject to particular scrutiny. Affiliated persons (affiliates) include (1) members of a family, (2) an officer or director of an organization and that organization, (3) partners, (4) employers and their employees, and (5) any person or organization directly or indirectly owning, controlling, or holding with power to vote, 5 percent or more of the outstanding voting stock or shares of any organization and the organization. In addition, affiliates include (6) any person who controls any other person and the other person, and (7) any two or more persons who directly control, are controlled by, or are under common control with, any person. "Control" exists where one person or organization is legally or operationally in a position to exercise restraint or direction over the other person or organization.

Arm's Length Transaction

An arm's-length transaction is a voluntary sale involving two parties who are independent of each other. In such a transaction, no special consideration, such as preferred pricing arrangements, special services, etc., is made because of one party's relationship to the other. Sales within a company, or other transactions between two parties having some legal, financial, or other common connection, are not considered to be arm's length transactions.

Confidential Information

Confidential information is sensitive business data that would cause substantial harm to the submitter if disclosed publicly. Examples of information that the IA normally treats as confidential, if requested and not already in the public domain, include trade secrets concerning the production process, production and distribution costs, terms of sale, individual prices, and the names of customers and suppliers.

Confidential Treatment

If a party requests confidential treatment of information, and if the IA agrees that the information is confidential, the IA will protect the information from public disclosure.

Date of Sale

Establishing the date of sale is an important part of any dumping analysis. Generally, the date of sale is the date on which the basic terms of the sale, particularly price and quantity, are agreed upon by the buyer and the seller. Typically, the date of sale is the invoice date. For long-term or requirements contracts, the date of sale is the date of contract.

If basic terms of sale have changed up to, or even subsequent to, the date of shipment, then the date of shipment is the date of sale. However, the date of sale cannot occur after the date of shipment. Thus, the IA treats post-shipment price modifications as price adjustments.

Discounts

A discount is a reduction to the gross price that a buyer is charged for goods. Although the discount need not be stated on the invoice, the buyer remits to the seller only the face amount of the invoice, less discounts. Common types of discounts include early payment discounts, quantity discounts, and loyalty discounts.

Dumping

Dumping occurs when imported goods are sold in, or for export to, Egypt at less than the normal value of the product concerned. The dumping margin is the amount by which the normal value exceeds the export price or constructed export price of the product concerned. The weighted-average dumping margin is the sum of the dumping margins divided by the sum of the export prices and constructed export prices.

Likelihood of recurrence of Dumping

Dumping is likely to occur if the imposed definitive Anti-Dumping measures are allowed to expire.

Export Price and Constructed Export Price

Export price and constructed export price refer to the two types of calculated prices for goods imported into Egypt. The IA compares these prices to normal values to determine whether goods are dumped. Both export price and constructed export price are calculated from the price at which the product concerned are first sold to a person not affiliated with the foreign producer or exporter.

Generally, an Egyptian sale is classified as an export price sale when the first sale to an unaffiliated person occurs before the goods are imported into Egypt. Generally, an unaffiliated person occurs after importation. However, if the first sale to the unaffiliated person is made by a person in Egypt affiliated with the foreign exporter, constructed export price applies even if the sale occurs prior to importation, unless the Egyptian affiliate performs only clerical functions in connection with the sale.

Facts Available

The IA seeks to make its anti-dumping determinations based on responses to its anti-dumping questionnaires. However, for a variety of reasons, the data needed to make such determinations may be unavailable or unusable. In such instances, the law requires the IA to make its determinations on the basis of “the facts otherwise available” (more commonly referred to as “the facts available”). More specifically, the IA must use the facts available if necessary information is not available on the record of an anti-dumping proceeding. In addition, the IA must use the facts available where an interested party or any other person: (1) withholds information requested by the IA, (2) fails to provide requested information by the requested date or in the form and manner requested, (3) significantly impedes an anti-dumping proceeding, or (4) provides information that cannot be verified.

In selecting the information to use as the facts available, the law authorizes the IA to make an inference that is adverse to an interested party if the IA finds that party failed to cooperate by not acting to the best of its ability to comply with a request for information. However, when the IA relies on secondary information rather than on information obtained in the course of an anti-dumping proceeding, the IA will, to the extent practicable, corroborate that information from independent sources that are reasonably at the IA’s disposal.

The IA will consider using submitted information that does not meet all of the IA’s requirements if: (1) the information is submitted within applicable deadlines; (2) the information can be verified; (3) the information is not so incomplete that it cannot serve as a reliable basis for a determination; (4) the party establishes that it acted to the best of its ability; and (5) the IA can use the information without undue difficulties. Finally, if an interested party promptly informs the IA of difficulties it is having in responding to a request for information, the IA will consider modifying its request to the extent necessary to avoid imposing an unreasonable burden on the party.

Further Manufacturing Adjustment

In calculating constructed export price, the IA normally deducts from the price of the goods sold in Egypt the cost of any further manufacture or assembly performed in Egypt by, or for, the exporter or an affiliate. However, if the value of the further processing is likely to exceed substantially the value of the product concerned as imported, the IA may instead use an alternative basis for the constructed export price. If possible, the IA would use the price of product concerned sold to an unaffiliated customer by the producer, exporter, or affiliated seller. If there is an insufficient quantity of such sales, the IA may rely on any other reasonable basis.

Rebates

Similar to discounts, rebates are reductions in the gross price that a buyer is charged for goods. Unlike discounts, rebates do not result in a reduction in the remittance from the buyer to the seller for the particular goods with which the rebate is associated. Rather, a rebate is a refund of monies paid, a credit against monies due on future purchases, or the conveyance of some other item of value by the seller to the buyer after the buyer has paid for the goods. When the seller establishes the terms and conditions under which the rebate will be granted at or before the time of sale, the IA reduces the gross selling price by the amount of the rebate.

Verification

To establish the adequacy and accuracy of information submitted in response to questionnaires and other requests for information, the IA conducts an examination of the records of the party that provided the information and interviews company personnel who prepared the questionnaire response and other requests for information and who are familiar with the sources of the data provided in the responses. This process is called verification.
